
Career guidance...

Posted by Rakesh - 2006/07/14 18:34

Dear Sir/Madame,

I have an experience of almost 4 years in online survey programming using different tools like ConfirmIT, mrInterview and some other client proprietary tools. I have attained the expert level to execute any job in any of the above tools with excellence.

Professionally, I have done MCA and after working for 1 yr in a small development company I shifted my focus to Market Research industry and it excited me very well. Now for the past 4 years I have been working for the same industry and in the same field. My present company is an Indian base MR firm, which provided me good exposure and opportunity for onsite client visit in UK.

I am looking for an exciting opportunity abroad in the same field. Can anyone please guide me how should I approach to grab the same.

Thanks in advance,
Rakesh

=====

Re:Career guidance...

Posted by MRP Editor - 2006/07/18 11:40

Hi Rakesh,

Your best bet for the most exposure to market research jobs is to contact market research recruitment consultants. For example, here in the UK a large one is Personell Resources (who also cover international positions).

Hope this helps,

Danny

=====

Re:Career guidance...

Posted by navaneeth20 - 2009/01/23 22:30

Hi Rakesh,

Have you got the opportunity in abroad,

If please guide me...

Thanks&Regards,

Gopal

=====

Re:Career guidance...

Posted by sachin007 - 2009/02/02 15:58

hi
this is sachin007

I want to say something about Career guidance. The all parents are to care our children and give an explain about Career guidance. Commonly ssc completed children to learn the career guidance. so Career guidance is very essential to the so many young people.

=====

sachin007

Job Search

Re:Career guidance...

Posted by mahesh.salian - 2009/02/24 10:48

Hi Navaneeth,

I saw your discussion, are you online now, actually myself Mahesh and I have 5 years of Market Research exp in Quantum, SPSS and Quanvert tool and I am looking for a tabulation job where I can work at home as I am in Denmark now and there are no vacancy in MR companies here. I am here in Denmark to support my wife who is doing her Research here.

Regards,
Mahesh

Re:Career guidance...

Posted by gopal14111985 - 2009/02/25 10:42

Hi Mahesh,

I don't have any idea abt that,

But check with the free lancer jobs.

Re:Career guidance...

Posted by hema1999 - 2010/05/20 06:42

* If you meet the above requirements, apply on plain A4 size paper (typed or handwritten) in the prescribed Application Format. The envelop containing the form should be superscribe with "LAW CADRE - Jan 2011 COURSE, Educational Qualification Aggregate Percentage.....%" and should be sent by 10 Jun 2010 to:- POST BAG NO. 02, SAROJAN NAGAR, PO, NEW DELHI – 110 023 Note: Application sent by Speed Post/Regd Post/Courier/E-mail will not be accepted.

* Application must be sent in the format given in this advertisement, otherwise it will be rejected.

* Application must be accompanied by attested copies of :- (i) 10th standard certificate for verification of date of birth and other educational certificates. (ii) Marks statement of all semesters/years. (d) Application and requisite enclosures must be properly tagged by thread or stapled. IHQ-MoD (N) will not be responsible for loss of Enclosures if sent loose.

Re:Career guidance...

Posted by gloriajoan - 2010/10/20 12:37

A market research analyst needs strong analytical, written, oral and communication skills. They should also be detailed oriented since they spend a substantial amount of time performing precise data analysis.

They write reports, create statistical charts and are often part of a research team. Those that perform personal interviews have frequent contact with the public. Meeting deadlines may necessitate working overtime. Sometimes travel is required for the occupation.

Re:Career guidance...

Posted by qvecqw11 - 2011/07/23 03:40

your topics are good.

=====

Re:Career guidance...

Posted by suliya - 2011/10/05 04:42

Rakesh wrote:

Dear Sir/Madame,

I have an experience of almost 4 years in online survey programming using different tools like ConfirmIT, mrInterveiw and some other client properitory tools. I have attained the experty level to execute any job in any of the above tools with exellence.

Professionally, I have done MCA and after working for 1 yr in a small development company I shifted my focus to Market Research industry and it excited me very well. Now for the past 4 years i have been working for the same industry and in the same field. My present company is an Indian base MR firm, which provided me good exposure and oppourtunity for onsite client visit in UK.

I a looking for an exciting opportunity abroad in the same field. Can anyone please guide me how should I approach to grab the same.

Thanks in advance,
Rakesh

I think there are plenty of job opportunities. I think the best option for you is through a foreign job agency in India. Since you have some expose to US and UK clients, you will able to get an interview. Also try searching for jobs through internet. You can use search engine, various job boards and job advertisement sites. Once you find their websites, send an email with your CV to their human resource management department. Another option is to visit the targeted country with travel visa. Go through the local newspapers and apply for the jobs. If you get the job, you can come back to your country and visit again with working visa.

=====