Hello Folks,

I'm based in India and having programming experience of about 7yrs on confirmit. I'm now looking for confirmit professional license to do my freelance survey programming work, can any one help me on this? I tried 3-4 times to contact through confirmit official website but they did not respond.

thanks in advance

Market research is a main strategy which plays a vital role in the success or failure of any product.This is the main requirement of a product before launching it to the market.

You need to talk to the companies you are considering doing freelance work for. Check with their HR department or their St. Louis payroll processing departments for licensing agreements. This might get you past this roadblock so you can start doing contract work.
