E-Tabs, the leading provider of Market Research data visualization, automated reporting and charting solutions, announces the hire of a new manager to their London head office to further the companyâ€™s capacity in reporting consultancy.

Russ Budden joins the company as Consultant Team Manager and will coordinate E-Tabsâ€™ global team of Client Consultants. He brings to the company over ten yearsâ€™ experience in the research industry, specialising in strategic consulting and data visualization, with previous positions at Culture of Insight and Kantar Media. In his new role Russ will nurture and grow the consultancy team and assist in delivering innovative and efficient reporting solutions to all E-Tabsâ€™ clients.

Russ says, â€œI greatly enjoy understanding how different companies operate in order to find practical, timely and cost-effective solutions to their business issues. And in that regard E-Tabs are the best in the business, so Iâ€™m excited to be taking on this challenging new role and look forward to assisting E-Tabsâ€™ continued growth in the industryâ€•.

Commenting on Russâ€™s appointment, Benjamin Rietti, CEO of E-Tabs says, â€œOur rightly predicted growth for 2015, which is continuing in 2016, meant taking on a Consultancy Manager was a good fit for usâ€•. He states, â€œRuss will be a huge asset to the company and to our clients. He brings practical consultancy skills, coupled with technical knowledge and experience in the market research industry. Itâ€™s great to have him on boardâ€•.
